NATURAL GAS SAFETY

Be prepared to recognize the signs of a natural gas leak using your senses of sight, smell, and sound.

Smell: A sulfur-like odor similar to rotten eggs is added to natural gas to make leaks more noticeable.

Sound: A hissing, whistling, or roaring noise.

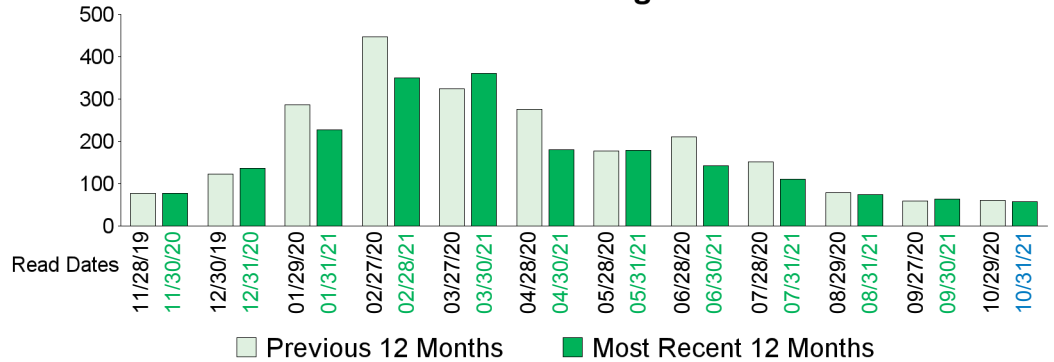

Sight: Look for dirt blowing from the ground or unusual bubbling from a puddle, creek, or pond.

If you suspect a gas leak, do not use a phone, smoke, flip electrical switches, or strike a match in that area. If you're at home, quickly check to see if a pilot light has gone out or if a burner valve is partially turned on. If you cannot readily locate the source of gas, leave the house immediately.

Once you've reached a safe location, call 911 and UES' 24-hour emergency line (877) 837-4968.
